

As part of our Well Educated Child we would like to give you more information about our School

Vision for the children

Uses numbers and ICT effectively.

Children are taught to be fluent in the fundamentals of mathematics, reason mathematically and solve problems. There is a whole school calculation policy to give children the skills necessary to function as a member of British society.

Children are taught to break down mathematical problems into a series of simpler steps and persevering. To ensure a deep understanding of maths, all children are encouraged to use practical apparatus (such as the abacus), models and images before they move into abstract methods.

Across the school there is a daily focused maths lesson. Each class is mixed ability and has a range of needs. The class begins together and then the tasks are differentiated to suit the specific needs of the children. When appropriate, work is linked with the current topic that the children are studying and is as practically based as possible. Throughout the whole school, where appropriate, there is a focus on mental skills, including number bonds and times tables.

Core basics of number are taught and tested daily through Number of the Day activities.

Progress is assessed through these Number of the Day tests. In KS1 and KS2 these tests are differentiated and have challenging targets that are set to match the children's needs. These targets are practiced, assessed and reviewed regularly with the children. Teachers communicate with parents using the children's home-school diaries so that support can be given at home.

ICT

Each class has a skills based lesson each week which is linked to their current topic work. There are additional computers and a set of 'IPads' for use in each classroom and teachers plan for and use these to support learning accordingly. Together with this pupils have access to some programmable toys and cameras etc.

Curriculum and Assessment at Millfields First School

Teachers and teaching assistants work hard to ensure your children are given the right challenge and support they need to do well at school. If children are finding something hard they will break a problem down and make it easier for them. This is part of assessment for learning. From these assessments, at the end of each term, using our school assessment system, teachers decide on how much progress the children are making and what they need help with to get better at their work the next term. At the end of the year teachers use the same school assessment systems to decide how well they have done this year. This will make a judgement regarding whether the child has met the national expectation or not.

Schools also have to administer national 'tests' for children. This happens at the start of Reception, at the end of Year 1 for reading and at the end of Year 2 for reading, writing and maths. We teach a broad and balanced curriculum that motivates and engages and helps children learn the skills of being a good learner and not one that just focuses on tests. The Year 2 tests are administered in ways that will not create anxiety for the children. We do not call them tests. The best thing you can do is make sure that they are in school, on time, having had breakfast. It is important to remember that these tests have a narrow national assessment focus and do not measure all of the children's areas of strength.

The judgements that are made at the end of each year will be reported to parents in order that you are aware of whether your child has reached national expectations or not.

We need to remember that the children are working hard and making progress, learning new skills and knowledge all of the time. At Millfields First School children learn their basic skills and learning attitudes that will support them as they move through school. We will tell you if we have concerns about their progress.

Annual whole school review

Our annual external review took place in March 2018 and was carried out by three other local Headteachers alongside an external reviewer from an educational consultancy company called DRB Ignite.

The findings indicated that Millfields First School continues to provide a good education for its pupils and the following statements taken from the report show clearly the high standards at the school.

These are some of the areas that were highlighted as strengths -

Teachers' expectations are high, so pupils make good progress.

Pupils behave very well in lessons and around school.

There is consistent use of mathematical strategies

The strong emphasis on 'reading into writing' ensures pupils read confidently and with enjoyment, and use high-level reading skills to answer complex questions accurately.

Teaching assistants support groups of pupils well.

Teachers work hard to plan interesting and engaging activities. As a result, pupils have very positive attitudes to learning and sustain concentration well.

These were some of the areas that were identified to develop over the next twelve months-

Ensure consistent implementation of the spelling scheme so that pupils' spelling skills continue to improve. Maximise pupil's enjoyment of reading by developing their reading skills through close tracking of reading fluency.

Develop and simplify marking and feedback to enable pupils to think more deeply about their work.

Develop mastery for more able pupils through the broadening and deepening of age-related expectations.

Year 4 Residential Visit

As we are sure you will have heard our Year Four pupils had a very enjoyable residential visit in April. As long as we receive consents from all parents we are planning to produce a CD as a souvenir of the trip.

Catering News

We have an increasing number of pupils ordering a school dinner without bringing in payment. Please can we politely remind parents that payment must be made advance of meals being taken.

Class Photographs

Please can all class photograph orders be returned to school by Friday 4th May. Thank you

Bag 2 School

Thank you to everyone who supported the Bag 2 School event organised by the Friends. This raised £76.00. The next big event will be our Summer Fayre.

May Day

Please remember school is closed for bank holiday Monday on 7th May. We finish for half term on Friday 25th May and return on Monday 4th June.
